The brothers, who had for many years developed products for other brands, decided to create their own skincare range with a mandate of using only healthy efficacious ingredients. For more than a decade prior to launch, their research took them around the globe in search of these efficacious ingredients and superior industry expertise. Grown Alchemist now proudly boasts a team of cosmetic chemists based in London, Paris and Australia, all relentlessly in the pursuit of perfect formulas that demonstrate efficacy powerful enough to evolve your beauty by transforming your skin and hair texture and appearance.
