

Born in Marseille and nurtured from an early age in the gentle lifestyle of Provence, Jérôme Lambruschini grew up in the shade of the cypress trees and mimosas of the Southern Alps region. His grandfather passed down his passion for trees, the vegetable garden and nature. As for his mother, she instilled in him her love for the earth and perfumes. It is from this dual inspiration, both Mediterranean and maternal, that you can find today in every Panier des Sens product, whose first collections came out in 2001. Inspired by the gentle lifestyle of the South of France, the Panier des Sens range of care, toiletries and perfumes illustrates Provence through fragrant and natural collections. The natural formulas benefit all skin types, and abide by a strict formulation charter, always giving precedent to vegetal and organic natural ingredients. The packaging, floral and carefully designed, are also eco-conceived. The ranges of lotions, soaps and perfumes magnify the beauty of Provence through elegant products with subtle textures and delicate fragrances from Grasse.
